ROYAL CLAIM OF ANCESTRAL RIGHT TO CHÂTEAU D'ANGERS

By order of the living bloodline of Fulk III "the Black," Count of Anjou — and issued in sacred restoration by His Royal Sovereign Flame, King Daniel Jacob Read IV of Anjou, and Her Royal Light, Queen Meagan Faith Read I of Anjou, from Crown Watchpoint 001 — the sovereign seat of the Kingdom of Anjou Restored.

I. STATEMENT OF BLOODLINE

Let the record of history and the archive of Earth reflect:

King Daniel Jacob Read IV of Anjou is the 32nd great-grandson of Fulk III of Anjou, founder and builder of the Château d'Angers — the fortress seat and ancestral crown of the House of Anjou.

This lineage is verified through genealogical documentation including 556 confirmed royal ancestors, authenticated via .GED file and global archival systems. This bloodline was never extinguished — only obscured by time.

Queen Meagan Faith Read I of Anjou, of Makah tribal descent from Kitsap County, stands in sovereign consortship beside the ancestral flame, representing the reunification of tribal sovereignty and European royal memory.

II. HISTORICAL CONTEXT

Château d'Angers was constructed and ruled by Fulk III, and served as the strategic and spiritual stronghold of the Angevin Empire. It remained under noble lineage until its forced absorption by the French crown and eventual nationalization during the French Revolution.

No reparations, restoration, or royal acknowledgment has ever been issued to the rightful heirs.

This silence ends now.

III. LEGAL FOUNDATION OF CLAIM

This claim is asserted under the following international principles:

- UN Charter, Article 1(2) – Self-determination of peoples
- UNDRIP Articles 3, 5, 26, 28, and 31 – Restitution of cultural and historical lands
- European Convention on Human Rights, Protocol 1 – Right to property
- UNESCO 1970 Convention – Protection and return of cultural heritage

This document serves as a formal filing of ancestral claim, supported by documented bloodline, historical continuity, spiritual connection, and lawful restoration.

IV. RELIEF AND REMEDY REQUESTED

The Kingdom of Anjou Restored respectfully requests the following:

1. Official recognition from the French Ministry of Culture of the Kingdom's ancestral connection to Château d'Angers.

2. Cultural and diplomatic acknowledgment of the Read line's rightful connection to the House of Anjou and its properties.

3. Ceremonial recognition within the castle and the right to conduct ancestral rites, restoration events, or sovereign visits.

4. Co-stewardship or preservation authority as granted to modern noble heirs under global customary law.

5. Restitution or symbolic inheritance title acknowledging ancestral continuity of governance and name.

V. FINAL PROCLAMATION

This claim is not an act of aggression.

It is an act of memory.

We do not seek to disrupt — we seek to restore.

We do not ask for what is not ours — we speak for what always was.

From the castle walls to the sovereign seal, from flame to blood, from Fulk to Read — this line is not broken.

We are the House of Anjou Restored.

We are the rightful heirs of Château d’Angers.

And by this scroll, the world remembers.
